KENNESAW DEPOT'S STORY BOARD

Andrew J. Bramlett

In the past three issues of the Bright Side, I have highlighted the new downtown storyboard signs that have information about Kennesaw's history. Each of these markers was developed by the City of Kennesaw's Economic Development Department to promote downtown tourism. I began in March with an article on the Kennesaw City Cemetery. This was followed by the story of the Big Shanty Spring, before turning our attention to Memorial Park. Lastly, this month we will look at the Kennesaw Depot, which has stood in the heart of the community for over 125 years.

Big Shanty (modern Kennesaw) had a depot building before the Civil War, which was burned by General Sherman's army in 1864.
Just after the war, a new depot building was built that looked more like a shed than a proper depot. It would serve the community for about twenty-five years.
When the Nashville, Chattanooga, and St. Louis Railroad took over the railroad line in 1890, they found the building inadequate.

In 1893, construction began on a replacement building. The old depot was moved further away from the tracks, up Cherokee Street to near where the yellow Carrie House is today. The new depot for Kennesaw opened in March 1893. Just nine years later, it would be expanded, and another expansion occurred in the 1920s.

In the 1960s, the last passenger train stopped at the Kennesaw Depot. Because the railroad had stood at the heart of the community for decades, the city purchased the building to preserve it. The building has been used for a number of purposes – event space, reenactor barracks, welcome center, and local history museum – and is now the centerpiece of Depot Park. Though few remember when the depot was used by passengers, it remains an important symbol of our town's origins and history.

BLOOD DRIVE

June 28, 2025, Cartersville

Hello Bright Side Readers. I am Carson
Pope and I am currently working on my Eagle
Project for Boy Scouts, and I need your help.

For my Eagle Project, I am organizing a blood drive in partnership with the American Red Cross on June 28th at Atco Baptist Church, 20 Parmenter Street, Cartersville, Ga 30120.
In addition to that, I am also asking for canned food donations to support the food pantry at
New Life Community Church in Acworth, Georgia.

I chose this project because in March of 2024, my mother was diagnosed with stage 3 multiple myeloma, a blood cancer. She has had to have several blood and platelet transfusions that wouldn't have happened if it wasn't for blood donors. The American Red Cross needs at least 29,000 pints of blood daily, which may seem small, but isn't when looking at the impact it has on lives and families. Out of the 38% of Americans eligible to donate, only 3%
of that number actually donates.

My goal for this project is to raise awareness and to collect as many donations as possible.
Please sign up to donate and help me spread the word. You can sign up at this link: [https://

The path includes unpaved areas and is not confined to paved walkways. Tickets are available at <https://www.kennesaw-ga.gov/kennesaw-event>. Scroll to June 22 on the event pages.

BUSINESS OF THE YEAR

On May 12, 2025, the Cobb Chamber named 1885 Grill the 2025 Small Business of the Year at its Small Business of the Year Awards Luncheon, presented by LOUD Security Systems, Inc. and S.A. White Oil Company.

For the past 5 years, 1885 Grill has beat the odds for many within the hospitality industry. It opened during the pandemic, and it not only survived, but it found a way to grow. In 2024, 1885 Grill expanded to its newest location in downtown Kennesaw. This expansion allows the business to bring its signature hospitality and dining experience to a broader audience while maintaining the quality service that is a cornerstone to its brand identity.

Owner Mike Schroeder and his team know that delivering exceptional hospitality goes beyond serving great food—it's about creating meaningful experiences and lasting connections. From investing in its employees' growth and development, to opening a new location and additional event spaces, 1885 Grill has refined its operational processes and ensured consistency across its locations, building a strong foundation for sustainable growth.

As the Chamber's 2025 Small Business of the Year, 1885 Grill will compete in the state's small business of the year competition.

MARIETTA HISTORY CENTER EXPLORES DEEP ROOTS OF AFRICAN HERITAGE

The Marietta History Center proudly announces the opening of a powerful new temporary traveling exhibit entitled, Before Slavery. This exhibit offers a compelling exploration into the lives, culture, and legacy of the African people from Bunce Island and the enduring heritage of the Gullah community.

Located off the coast of Sierra Leone, Bunce Island was one of the largest British slave trading operations on the West African coast. Before Slavery delves into the lives of the people who passed through this tragic site—not solely as enslaved individuals, but as members of vibrant cultures with complex traditions, histories, and identities. The exhibit also highlights the Gullah people, descendants of these West Africans, whose unique culture has been preserved for generations in the coastal regions of South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida.

Visitors will gain a deeper understanding of the rich African traditions that survived the Middle Passage and continue to influence Southern culture today. Before Slavery is an exhibit from the Vibrant Health Association. For more information visit <https://beforeslavery.com>.

The exhibit will run through Saturday, August 2nd, 2025, and is included with general admission to the Marietta History Center. Educational programming will be offered during the exhibition's run.

ETOWAH SENIOR RAISES MONEY FOR HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

On March 30th, Hayden Raffield organized and launched the first-ever 5K Fun Run on behalf of Habitat for Humanity North Central Georgia, held at Etowah River Park in Canton. Even with a late start and rainy weather, we had an incredible turnout of over 100 runners, raising more than $2,500 to support Habitat's mission across Cherokee, Forsyth, Dawson, and North Fulton counties.

What makes this moment especially meaningful is that it was entirely student-led. As the founder of Eagle's Service Connection, Etowah's largest student-run service club, Hayden wanted to move beyond traditional volunteering and create something lasting. The success of this event marks the start of a new tradition—one where young people take charge of real-world challenges and deliver impact that matters.

Hayden has recently graduated from Etowah High School (Cherokee County) and plans to attend the University of Georgia this fall of 2025 with the intention of majoring in political science. This fundraiser will continue with Habitat for Humanity under their Women Build initiative as they plan to incorporate the Fun Run and continue it.

HOME BUILT BY HABITAT CLUB STUDENTS

The Cobb County High School Coalition, and their partner Assurant officially dedicated future homeowner David's beautiful new home in Austell. This is the 28th Habitat home built by the Habitat Club students from Campbell, Harrison, Hillgrove, Pope, and Walton High School. Assurant, a longtime partner dating back years as well, joined the coalition to build our first house of 2025.

For David, who is a single father, homeownership means creating a legacy of love, safety, and opportunity for his family. He's a dedicated father who works very hard to achieve stability and a safe space for his boys. David works with the US Postal Service and spends his free time outdoors with his two sons, exploring parks and playing sports. He is grateful to the sponsors, donors, and volunteers for making this dream possible.

"The longevity of our Cobb High School Coalition is an amazing accomplishment," says Kyle Huhtanen, CEO, Habitat for Humanity of NW Metro Atlanta. "We also are grateful for Assurant, our long-time partner who continues to support our mission every year."

ABOUT ASSURANT

Assurant, Inc. is a leading global provider of housing and lifestyle solutions that support, protect, and connect major consumer purchases. The company relocated its headquarters to Cobb County from New York City at the end of 2022. The Fortune 500 company also has numerous other locations, including offices throughout the United States and in 21 countries.

ABOUT HABITAT FOR HUMANITY OF NORTHWEST METRO ATLANTA

In 1985, Chrys and John Street met Millard Fuller, who challenged them to start an affiliate of Habitat for Humanity in Cobb County. They distributed brochures to local churches and gathered 12 people to form a Board of Directors. On April 1, 1986, Cobb County Habitat for Humanity was officially incorporated as an affiliate of Habitat for Humanity International. In 2008, the organization expanded to include Douglas and Paulding counties and the name changed to Habitat for Humanity of Northwest Metro Atlanta. Since 1986, nearly 600 homes have been built, rehabilitated, or repaired as part of our pursuit to provide decent, affordable housing in Cobb, Douglas, and Paulding counties. CHATTAHOOCHEE TECH NATIONALLY RANKED AS TOP 10 MILITARY FRIENDLY SCHOOL

Chattahoochee Technical College has been nationally recognized for its dedication to serving military veterans, earning the designation as a top ten Military Friendly® School for 2025–2026.

“The team here at Chattahoochee Tech does a fantastic job,” said Michael Payne, the college’s Director of Veteran Services. “All of our departments and community partners are dedicated to providing the very best services to help our military members, veterans and their families, and help them become successful.”

In the 2025 spring semester, more than 450 students enrolled at Chattahoochee Tech identified as veterans or active-duty military. These students benefit from the college’s Superior Plumbing Veterans Education and Career Transition Resource (VECTR) Center, located at the college’s Marietta Campus. One of only two such centers in Georgia, the VECTR Center offers a supportive space to help military-affiliated students transition into the civilian workforce and higher education. It also assists veterans in translating their military experience into skills for high-demand careers.

The Military Friendly® School designation is part of a national awards program that sets the standard for how higher education institutions support military-connected students. To view the full list of 2025-2026 Military Friendly® Schools, visit: <https://www.militaryfriendly.com/2025-2026-mfs/>

ABOUT DYSLEXIA

BY MELLIE FINKEL, BROOKWOOD CHRISTIAN SCHOOL

If you are familiar with dyslexia, a learning disorder that affects a person’s reading speed and accuracy, then you may have heard that boys are more likely to have dyslexia than girls. While it is true that boys are diagnosed with dyslexia more frequently than girls, research suggests that this long held belief may not be true. Further research is needed for a definitive answer on if boys are more likely to have dyslexia than girls, but researchers at the University of Florida believe that both genders are equally likely to have dyslexia. As to why boys are more likely to be diagnosed than girls, this quote from the University’s Literacy Center sums it up, “Girls more often than boys tend to struggle quietly and, therefore, their difficulties may go unnoticed.” There are a few theories as to why girls often struggle quietly while their dyslexic male peers receive help, but there does not seem to be any one specific cause or simple solution. The most important thing to take away from this article is that dyslexia does not just affect boys. Regardless of a student’s gender, parents and teachers should familiarize themselves with the signs of dyslexia:

- Trouble sounding out words
- Mispronouncing words
- Slow and/or inaccurate reading
- Trouble identifying the sounds of letters
- Trouble with or inability to spell words
- Confusing similar words
- Issues with remembering words

Early intervention for dyslexic students is key to improving learning outcomes and lessening the impact of secondary issues that affect people with dyslexia such as anxiety, depression, low self-esteem, etc.

NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR VENDORS & BBQ TEAMS AT THE 25TH ANNUAL PIGS & PEACHES FESTIVAL

Be part of the tradition—applications are now open for vendors and competition BBQ teams for the 25th Annual Pigs & Peaches BBQ Festival, returning Friday, August 15, from 6 to 10 p.m. and Saturday, August 16, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the United Bankshares Amphitheater in Downtown Kennesaw.

What began as a backyard cook-off at the Depot has grown into one of the Southeast’s most anticipated festivals, drawing an estimated 60,000 attendees each year. Pigs & Peaches continues to celebrate the spirit of good food, great music and strong community with two days of live entertainment, family fun and serious barbecue.

Competitive BBQ teams are invited to register for one of our sanctioned contests. The Professional BBQ Contest, a KCBS-sanctioned Georgia State Championship event, features $10,000 in cash prizes across categories for chicken, pork ribs, pork and beef brisket. Amateur grillers can join the Backyard BBQ Contest, competing in chicken, pork ribs and pork for more than $1,500 in cash prizes. Registered teams are also eligible for the Ancillary Contests, including the Anything Butt and Peach Dessert competitions.

Vendors with unique crafts, retail goods, food and beverage offerings are encouraged to apply. All booth spaces are 10-by-10 feet, located outdoors on asphalt. Vendors must provide their own tent, tables and chairs, and are required to operate both days of the event. Applications are reviewed and confirmed by event organizers. All fees are due by Friday, June 20, 2025, and are nonrefundable after that date.

For competition entry forms, contest rules, vendor guidelines and applications, visit the Pigs & Peaches website at www.pigsandpeaches.com.

YOU ARE INVITED TO VISIT THE KSU COLLECTION

Have you ever wondered what local history resources are available at Kennesaw State University? A new exhibit titled "Local Collections, Local Stories" highlights the Cobb County collections in the Department of Museums, Archives, Rare Books, and University Libraries. The exhibit features documents, photographs, and rare books from a variety of collections, showcasing both resources for both Kennesaw and Cobb County as a whole. Come check it out in the Athenaeum Gallery on the second floor of the Sturgis Library on the Kennesaw campus. The gallery is open to the campus community, as well as the public, throughout the summer semester when the library is open. See the University Libraries website, www.kennesaw.edu/library, for summer hours. The exhibit was curated by Andrew Bramlett, a regular contributor to the Bright Side and a student assistant at the KSU Archives.
